Washable Sanitary Pads

Technical Specification :

Sanitary pads are an essential which are practically unavoidable. As soon as you hit your menstrual cycle, it is a hassle getting rid of pads which can tend to stink when left undisposed for a longer time or overused for a matter of fact. Washable sanitary pads are a boon for people who do not want the hassles of disposable pads and are inclined towards being eco-friendly too.

With more than 10 hours of protection, washable sanitary pads can be used regularly as a domestic product as well as for emergencies. Not only does it lock the moisture it and protect you from the stains, but is also comfortable and reusable.

With raving customer reviews, women have vouched for the fact that it is comfortable and prevents the odour, but also can be used overnight without any leakage problem. No more chaffing issues as those with wings. It could be a blessing in disguise for those who are bothered about wrinkling or pads that tend to fold in half for no reason at all.

Above all, it is washable and can be reused for a fairly long time. Throw it in the washing machine, add detergent which is skin friendly and wash it off until dry. Easy and simple, this one is must have for all women.

Quality has always been important when it comes to sanitary pads. We are the leading manufacturer and supplier of such sanitary pads and we have never ever compromised on the quality. We understand the purpose and sensitivity of use of such products. We have always offered the finest quality to our clients. Our versatile and unique pads are very popular.
