Cooking forms an important part of our everyday lives. But what if you need something more economical than a gas stove which is not only expensive but comes along with the hassles of taking a connection in your own name, linking it with the aadhar, so on and so forth. So, what is an easier way out when you do not have all those facilities in place.

Kerosene is usually known as paraffin. It is a mix of hydrocarbon which is useful for lighting and cooking purposes. A kerosene stove can be used as a makeshift heater which is also useful during winters. Use it to cook whatever you want, and it wouldn't fail you whatsoever.

Made from sturdy metals which are great for usage, it is portable and can be used on the go as well. Travelling comprises a huge part of everyone's life. If you are one of the people who stay on road due to transport businesses or anything related to logistics, eating out can get cumbersome. Sometimes you might have to hit places which do not have those joints where you could treat yourself to good food. Having the fuel handy and the kerosene stove with you can help you stay sorted on the food front.
