Sleeping Bags

Technical Specification :

Ever wondered how comfortable or good it would be to have a proper sleeping bag when you are off on a trek or an expedition? Sleeping bags are one a kind and are must-have equipment when you are out. Pick out a good sleeping bag and you would be free from the sore backs, painful knees and the likes. Just because it is a sleeping bag doesn't mean it cannot look good. Pick out in different shapes, sizes, colors and surface area according to you needs. With a superior quality material which is resistant to wear, and tear is what we recommend if you intend to use it often. Durable and consistent material is one of the perks that make a sleeping bag very comfortable.

Check for the inner linings and ensure that it is warm, comfortable and cosy such that it can be customized to be used in any climate. Waterproofing and securing mechanism is essential given that it can be used across topographies which might have intruders around. You want it to cover you completely such that you do not face any adversities.

Find a sleeping bag that is lightweight, easily foldable and washable too such that you can maintain it and reuse it over and over again.
